D. N. Ganaway, president of the Virginia Farmers' Union, was the spokesman. He told the Joint Commission of the House and Senate, appointed to investigate the alleged combination on the part of European buyers to control the price of tobacco, of the plight of American producers.

"We have done everything possible to induce the European buyers to give us a fair price, and we advocate most strongly the assistance of government representatives abroad to contract with the foreign governments for our tobacco," sald he. "After we have exhausted every other alternative we come as a last resort to the agency we, ourselves, created—the government of the United States."

Other hearings will be held.

THIS WONDERFUL VESSEL HAS MADE HISTORY.

In 1790, the Courier Ship Success was brift of solid Burman Trak, at Moulmaio, British East India, as an armed East India merchantman. Purchased by the British government in 1802, she was converted into a floating convict prison, and became the commodors ship of the Felon Flext, being generally known as "The Ocean Heil."

She is the oldest ship in the world and the only convict ship left affont of that dreadful first fields which sailed the Seven Seas in 1780 A. D. She is unchanged after all these years, nothing being omitted but her human freight and their sufferings from the cruelties and barbartities practiced upon them. Abourd her are now shown, in their original state, all the airless dungons and condemned cells, the whipping posts, the manacies, the branding from a the punishment balls, the leader-tipped cato-nine-tails, the coffin bath, and other femilials investions of man's brutality to his fellowman. " " From keel to must she cries aloud the greatest lasson the world has ever known in the history of human progress.
